Teachers' Awards for Excellence in Holocaust Education

The Holocaust Education Resource Council (HERC) honors teachers in public or private schools who have demonstrated excellence in Holocaust education.

Winners of these awards will have the opportunity to receive curriculum materials and have their lesson plans published on the HERC website (www.holocaustresources.org).

"Teaching about the Holocaust is of the utmost importance in today's society. With acts of racism, prejudice, bullying and violence perpetrated against innocent individuals still occurring, we must be vigilant in teaching the lessons of the Holocaust. These acts can have devastating effects if left unchecked,"
-Nikki Allen, Ft. Braden School
